

WE NOMINATE

Roberta Sylvester Conner, who next week—nearly 20 years after she qualified for her law degree in the Woodrow Wilson School of Law in Atlanta, Ga.—will be “graduating once more” but this time in the company of her son. While Don Read Conner Jr. will be completing his Princeton studies and looking beyond military service to his first job, she will be resigning as of July 1st from the directorship of the University’s unique Bureau of Alumni Records, preparatory to continuing a promising literary career understandably disrupted a decade ago by the sudden death of her husband.

It was in 1943, with her daughter about to enter college and her son starting out in secondary school, that Mrs. Conner first assumed full responsibilities for her family. A long-planned writing program, that included part-time studies in the University of Pittsburgh and had already brought recognition in nation-wide short-story competitions, was set aside, for she took over part of her late husband’s duties at Shady Side Academy, Pittsburgh, and for the next five years was Registrar and Executive Secretary of a school headed by Erdman Harris, formerly of Lawrenceville and this month on the threshold of retirement.

By 1948 the daughter had taken her degree at Carnegie Tech and the boy was just a year away from Princeton. Mrs. Conner, a native of Marietta, Ga., was ready for “the break with Pittsburgh.” She established her home here and by the time her son matriculated with the Class of 1953 was a member of staff of the Princeton Graduate Council and was preparing to take over the newly founded Bureau of Alumni Records, which is charged with the thankless task of maintaining up-to-date records for some 32,000 alumni scattered through the 48 States, U.S. Possessions and Territories and about 90 different foreign countries. And upon her fell the burden of editing a 1,116-page Alumni Directory.

For the past four years, in addition to directing an office that preserves Princeton’s lifelines with its alumni and in the process makes a minimum of 11,000 address-changes per annum, Mrs. Conner, an alumna of Colorado State College, has been “carrying” her own courses in psychology, philosophy, drama, poetry and even painting. Such undertakings have been directed at the future and at her writing. Now at 43, with the children “safe in the outside world,” she is returning to her Western Pennsylvania home where she may—or may not—settle permanently following a “round-the-globe “typewriter voyage” on a Norwegian freighter requiring a mere 65 days to make the run from Manhattan to Calcutta, India.

For proving beyond shadow of doubt that a woman’s place can be in the office as well as in the home; for endowing a routine phase of educational administration with unusual vitality; for insisting, even in the face of all she has accomplished, that “I have failed to do more than I have done;” she is the Editors’ nominee for

Direct Air Mail Service. Helicopter air mail service will come to Princeton on Monday, but unless they look sharply early in the morning and just before the late-summer twilight, Princetonians will never see the aerial mailman. The 'copter will land nearly two miles from the post office - on a site provided by the RCA Laboratories across Carnegie lake.

After Monday's first-day operations, when the schedule will be intentionally slowed to allow various ceremonies, the helicopter will arrive twice daily, at 7:19 a. m. and 7:59 p. m. Since it will come from Trenton and leave for New Brunswick, it will hardly be visible from most points in this community.

Monday's schedule calls for arrival at 2:32 p. m. and departure 15 minutes later. Two-a-day flights will be inaugurated Tuesday, with the 'copter linking a dozen northern and central New Jersey towns with Newark, LaGuardia and Idlewild Airports.

To mark inauguration of the service on Monday, the Princeton Philatelic Society is sponsoring a commemorative cachet to be applied on request to collectors' envelopes. Showing a helicopter against the Princeton skyline, the cachet has been designed by Rex Goreleigh of Princeton Group Arts, while the covers are being serviced by Marshall Fisher, president, and Arthur Westneat of the Philatelic Society.

The cachet service may be obtained by sending self-addressed envelopes, stamped with six cents air mail postage, together with one cent per cover to defray costs, to Mr. Fisher at 18 Vandeventer Avenue. He should have them by Sunday.

Inauguration of the service is expected to make possible delivery of letters in London and on the continent from 24 to 36 hours after they leave Princeton. Plans are also underway for helicopter parcel post, to be followed at a later date by passenger service to the towns and cities served.

Two Princetonians Honored. Unusual honors came to two Princetonians during the past week. In London, Dr. Hugh S. Taylor, Dean of the Princeton University Graduate School, was among the residents of this country knighted by Queen Elizabeth as part of the pre-coronation ceremonies. A British subject, Dr. Taylor has been on the University faculty since 1914.

In Minneapolis, The Rev. Dr.
John A. Mackay was elected moderator of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., winning on the first ballot by 553 to 308. The president of Princeton Theological Seminary thus becomes titular head of some 2,500,000 Presbyterians. Like Dr.
Taylor, he was born in Great Britain (Inverness, Scotland.)

Also at Minneapolis, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church watched the presentation of an original drama, "Tomorrow for the Taking." Produced by the church's Board of Christian Education, it was staged under the direction of John F. Becker, television and motion picture producer, whose home is on the Somerville Road.

Merger Plan Discussed. Some 350 residents of the borough and township attended the first of two hearings on the consolidation plan Monday night in the high school auditorium. A majority of the score of speakers who rose to discuss various aspects of the ten-point proposal heartily endorsed it; only Dr. William S. Carpenter, co-chairman of the Committee to Oppose Consolidation, took direct exception to the plan, terming it a move for "absorption of the township by the borough."

Charles T. Cowenhoven, Jr., chairman of the Joint Consolidation Committee, presided over the meeting. He pointed out that the form of the plan will not entail additional expense to the community; that if changes in the governing procedure are found essential, they can be instituted by the new mayor and council; and that the voluntary form of service by public-spirited citizens can be expected to continue if consolidation is approved.

He emphasized that, "While from the outset, we have been complet-ly neutral with respect to the issue of consolidation, we have necessarily proceeded on the assumption that we will make a plan for a consolidated community. In brief, it has been our purpose to present a plan which, if consolidation is voted by the people, would form a fair and reasonable basis upon which the two communities could join."

Stanley C. Smoyer of 7 Newlin Road, a township resident, backed the committee's plan to make township residents solely responsible for the school debt in that district if consolidation is effected. He pointed out that the gross value of school buildings, plus a cash surplus, which the borough would contribute to the new municipality is approximately $2,700,000.

In contrast, the township school system is evaluated at approximately $750,000. If the existing debt of $613,000 is paid off by township residents, their contribution to the merger will be $1,300,000—about half of the borough's. Mr.
 Smoyer's contention, which drew considerable applause, was that such a ratio would be quite correct since it accurately reflects the 2-to-1 balance in rateables between the two communities.

Dr. Carpenter warned of rapidly advancing costs of government if consolidation is effected. He termed the plan "good within the limits of the law" but said that the new governing body would be confronted with "all the present headaches of both borough and township, as well as those of the new municipality."

Two other township residents cited the crowded conditions of the Valley Road School as valid reasons for settling the merger date earlier than the proposed January 1, 1955. Mrs. Jan Rajehman of Edgerstone asked for such consideration on the committee's part, while Mrs. Frederick H. Nicoll of 287 Western Way, president of the township board of education, stressed the difficulty under which the school system will operate next year because of the excessive number of pupils.

Other speakers at Monday's meeting included Richard Chislett, 118 Cedar Lane; Dr. Charles R. Erd-

It's New to Us

Get a Space Cadet? Of course. Who hasn't? If there is someone in your establishment who is saving up to be first passenger to Mars—or if he just wants to save for a space helmet, he can undoubtedly use a Space Ship Shooting Coin Bank. This tongue-buster is for sale at the Princeton Savings and Loan Association, 21 Chambers, for $1. It's a heavy grey metal rocket, built to withstand the pressures of outer space and the nine-year-old boy (or girl. Why not one for her, too?) It's about nine inches long with a slot in the center. This slot closes with a lever on a spring. Pull back the lever, put the coin partly in the slot and let go. Boing! The coin is shot into the rocket-head.

To the relief of all parents, let us say right now that the bank takes only small coins: pennies, nickels and dimes. No quarter given. A key opens it all up when the maximum load has been taken on board.

Go for a Ramp. Playsuits have moved into The Joan Shop, 63 Palmer Square West, and they are there, you may be glad to know, in sizes that go up to 20". We saw them in candy-striped seersucker or pique trimmed in stripe, both with longish shorts and a classic shirt top. There's a skirt that goes along when you go shopping. Whole thing: $10.95.

Another style has four pieces: striped seersucker halter, shorts, sleeveless blouse and skirt, all for $17.95. For the skittish, there's a bloomie-type suit (skirt to match) in a calico banded brightly at the bottom of the skirt. Narrow straps go over the shoulders. It's $10.95.

Coral and white chintz has been used to make tight pantalettes with two white ruffles banding the leg. Matching skirt has a bright coral cummerbund. On someone young and full of sauce, it would be wonderful. For $14.95.

Blouses here are quite unusual. We liked Irish linen ones, natural color. One is absolutely plain with deep V, smoky buttons down the front to vest points. Why not wear it over a sun dress? At $7.95 it's a bargain.

Blouse-Mates is a set in natural Irish linen. Blouse is sleeveless with ball fringe around the neck and back buttons. Jacket has front buttons and the same fringe. Set is $17.95.

If you're watching a budget, look at $2.98 blouses, one a flirtatious thing with puff sleeves and wide eyelet collar, the other tailored with V-neck. Both in white cotton.

3-D at Home. Someone in your family probably has a View-Master with a batch of scenic reels featuring a three-dimensional Grand Canyon. This same company has put out a View-Master Stereo Camera so that you can take your own three-dimensional snapshots, in color.

We looked, through the View-Master, at some snapshots taken around Princeton with this camera, and it was certainly more exciting than looking at an album of 2-D black and whites. The camera is for sale at the Princeton Book Mart, 11 Palmer Square West. It costs $149, and the viewer to hold your finished pictures is $2.

Lots of toys in this store for summer stay-at-homes. Try this on your neighbors: a child's Golden Trumpet that can really play like a professional instrument. Book of songs goes along for $3.98. Or a ukelele, for child or adult, with one of those Arthur Godfrey

A second hearing on the plan, open to all residents of the community, will be held Wednesday night at 8 in the high school auditorium.

Year's End. The climax of the academic year has come, with the concern over examinations replaced by the many pleasant aspects of commencement programs and plans for the summer.

At Princeton Country Day School Monday night, 16 members of the Class of 1953 will partake in graduation ceremonies. The seniors and the secondary schools in which they will enroll:

Carl W. Akerlof, Norman K. Dorf, Charles F. Fischer, Jr., Eloi M. Rosenblad, Sumner Rulon-Miller, 3d and Thine F. Urbanik, all Lawrenceville; Nicholas A. Cameron and Michael Stevens, Westminster; Peter B. Cook, study in Italy; Grenville Cuyler, Groton; Samuel M. Hamill, Jr., Milton; John E. Kerney, Jr., Kenneth C. Scasserra and John R. Vollbrecht, all Canterbury; Charles C. Savage, 3d, Middlesex; Brian W. Stafford, George School, from the fifth form. James H. Ackerman, Jr. and John J. Pearce, Jr. will enter St. Paul's, while Alan P. Tredeunick will go to Choate.

Princeton Theological Seminary will hold its 141st annual commencement exercises Tuesday morning at 10:30 in the Princeton University Chapel. The Rev. Dr. Samuel M. Shoemaker, Rector of Calvary Episcopal Church, Pittsburgh, and a member of the Princeton Class of 1916, will be the commencement speaker. The Baccalaureate Service will be held Sunday at 4 in Miller Chapel, with President John A. Mackay delivering the sermon and conducting the communion service. Monday's program will include reunion luncheon, a reception at "Springdale" given by Dr. and Mrs. Mackay, and the annual dinner meeting of the alumni association that evening.

Brumbl. Awards for "consistent effort, cooperation and group spirit" were made to Margaret Smith and Jane Smith. Barbara Pearce won the award for "consistent effort and progress in Class IV," while the award for "outstanding achievement among boys in Class III" went to Charles Smyth. Others who will leave the school with him, having finished the third grade, are Jonathan Morey, Joseph Smith, Walter Smith and Harold Van Doren.

Miss Fine's graduation will be held Tuesday night at 8:30. The speaker will be Dr. George F. Kennan, former ambassador to Russia.

John E. Beebe, III of South Staanworth Drive won the Headmaster's Prize at The Hun School as the student with the highest academic average throughout the year. Other Princetonians to share in the awards at Saturday's commencement were Jackson Shepard, 36 Jefferson Road, who won the Reaselaer Alumni Medal for proficiency in mathematics and sciences; George W. Sorenson, 150 Patton Avenue, the Bausch & P Lomb Science Medal; and Victor H. Perone, Jr., Ewing Street, the Public Speaking Prize.

Graduates from Princeton, in addition to Shepard and Sorenson, were Kenneth F. S. Hendry, 47 Westcott Road, and Clayton J. Tidey, Mt. Lucas Road. C. William Edwards, Director of Admissions at Princeton University, was the commencement speaker.

Group Arts Elects. Gordon Waldron has been named chairman of Princeton Group Arts for the next 12 months, succeeding William B. Bretnall. Rex Goreleigh, executive director, expressed the organization's appreciation to Mr. Bretnall for two years of service and presented him with a portrait of himself painted by Mr. Goreleigh.

Albert Hinds will serve as vice-chairman; Paul Rappaport as treasurer and Mrs. Arthur Mendel as secretary. The organization, hold in its annual membership dinner at the Witherspoon YMCA, heard Professor Alan S. Downer, one of its founders, stress the need for closer cooperation with other cultural organizations in Princeton. His point was that conflicts in dates of various events should be eliminated by advance consultation so that the public's interest will not be diffused among them.

Group Arts' seventh annual outdoor spring exhibit will be held in Palmer Square Friday and Saturday, June 12 and 13, from 10 to 5. All artists are invited to show three paintings in any media.

Paintings will be exhibited in store windows during the coming week before the exhibit opens. Mrs. Samuel Atkins heads the committee in charge.

Cornerstone Ceremony. The First Presbyterian Church has scheduled a cornerstone-laying ceremony for Sunday, immediately following the morning service. Dr. Charles G. Osgood, a church elder, will give a brief historical address, while Sumner B. Irish, superintendent of the church school, will lay the cornerstone for the addition to the present structure.

Inside the stone to be set down will be the church membership roll, a list of those contributing to the building fund, the names of the building fund committee, the church roster and a copy of Dr. Osgood's "History of the First Presbyterian Church of Princeton." Professor Henry L. Savage, Archivist of Princeton University, is in charge of this aspect of the ceremonies.

Present to represent the three

William P. Armstrong, daughter of the late Dr. George T. Purves, former pastor of the church, 1906; David H. McAlpin, trustee, 1941, and Harry H. Hall, Jr., 1953. The pastor, the Rev. Dr. John R. Bodo, will preside.

Lutherans Plan New Program. A Hymn Festival, its first, will be held Sunday from 7 to 8 p.m. at the Lutheran Church of the Messiah. "Treasurers of Our Hymnal throughout the Church Year" has been selected as the theme, with the congregation and the three choirs singing the best-loved hymns of the seasons of the church year.

Mrs. Gunther Schmitz, Director of Music, and George Fuchs, organist, will be in charge. Light refreshments will be served at the end of the program; the public is invited to attend.

Donald Promoted. Stanley L. Donald, 15 Olden Avenue, commanding officer of Princeton's Company L in the National Guard, has been promoted to the rank of captain. A veteran of five years' active duty in World War II, he served with the 32d Infantry Regiment in New Guinea and the Philippines.

BUCKS COUNTY PLAYHOUSE

"Mister Roberts" opens up Theron Bamberger's 13th season at the Bucks County Playhouse this Friday evening. Special Saturday afternoon and evening performances of the comedy smash will be given and then the hit will start the regular Bucks schedule of Monday through Saturday evenings and matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

Ray Parker in the title role heads a cast which includes many of the actofs from the recently closed and phenomenally successful national tour. Jud Pratt as Doc, Charles Pursell as Ensign Pulver and Peggy Pope as the Navy nurse are also featured in the familiar Thomas Heggen-Joshua Logan hit about life aboard a Navy cargo ship.

"The Country Girl," Clifford Odets' well-known comedy drama, has been announced as the second attraction at the picturesque, air-cooled Playhouse, with the opening set for June 15. John Van Druten's gay hit, "The Voice of the Turtle," will open June 22.

MURRAY THEATRE

Lola D'Annunzio, who is currently appearing in "The Grass Harp" at the Circle in the Square Theatre in New York, has been signed to appear in the lead role of "The Rose Tattoo" which will open the University Players' season in Murray Theatre on June 22. (See the advertisement on this page for full season details.)

Miss D'Annunzio has been cast as Serafina in the Tennessee Williams play and will be treading familiar boards. A Trenton resident, she has appeared with the Intime and an earlier University Players group.

Producer Charles H. Schultz '54 has announced that the resident company will include Philip Minor '51, Robert Elston (Columbia), and Betty Jane Dawson (Yale Drama School), as well as Peggy Kalmar Allison, Virginia English and Claire Minton, who have appeared frequently on the Murray stage.

Robert MacAllen will direct the six-week season and Hugh G. Hardy '54 will do the sets. Business and technical appointments include those of Stuart H. Duncan II '48 as business manager, J. Thomas Rimer '54 as stage manager and Charles Robb '54 as public relations head.

LAMBERTVILLE MUSIC CIRCUS

Victor Herbert's romantic old favorite "Sweethearts" will be the opening production this Friday at St. John Terrell's Music Circus in Lambertville. Christine Matthews and Richard Alchison head the cast of the operetta.

"Sweethearts" will run through Sunday, June 14, and then "Panama Hattie" will start the regular Tuesday through Sunday schedule. The Cole Porter hit had a run of 501 performances on Broadway in 1940-41 and the Music Circus production marks its first revival.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Young Bess (Thurs.-Tues.), timed to catch Coronation fever, features Jean Simmons in a likeable portrayal of the youth of Queen Elizabeth I. The Technicolor film hacks around with history and royal pageantry of 16th century England, and MGM's version calls for much mooning over Stewart Ganger as a romantic admiral. Another formidable Henry VIII performance by Charles Laughton and Deborah Kerr as his eighth and last wife are included. Completing a full week.

The Desert Rats (Wed.-Sat.) is a fine military melodrama based on the successful withstanding of a

You can buy everything in this store. The Book Mart has just received a shipment of the new Revised Standard Bible, bound in leather. These leather-bound copies have not been available in any great number before this. The price, for a handsome graduation gift, is $10.

For Summer Crafts. Here's something anybody can do at almost any age. The Nassau Paint Store at 126 Nassau has a raffia set. You get hobbins or raffia in different colors, a special glue and some lacquer and brushes, for $1.50 or $2, depending on size of kit.

Then you take an old ketchup bottle or a coffee can. You coat it with the special Stik-Tite, and you wind raffia around it all the way, or part way or whatever your taste says. Then you lacquer it with the contents of the other bottle, and there you have a vinegar cruet or humidor, or whatever.

If you wish you can "write" with a contrasting raffia—for example, you can put your initials on the jacket of a drinking glass. Children could make Father's Day presents, maybe. (June 21 is closer than you think.)

Another Father's Day thought—a leather billfold for you to lace together. For $1 in a wide choice of colors. A soft, simple, good-looking wallet.

Just for fun, some hot summer afternoon keep your broad quiet and happy with some of these rubber animal molds. You mix molding powder with water, pour it into a mold made like a rabbit, or a skunk, or a turtle or a frog. When it hardens, peel the rubber off and there is a plaster animal ready for print.

You can use the mold again. Animals are about an inch or two high. Smallest ones are 35c, larger are 50c.

English Silver. Give your favorite bride a piece of old English silver, this Coronation year. At The Silver Shop, 59 Palmer Square West, we found English berry spoons, a pair of them in a ruby-red satin case. Made in 1770, they were. A large stuffing spoon and ladle, both in plain, impeccable lines, also come from England.

From 1870, a Sheffield box, cylindrical shaped, for tobacco or biscuits. It's lined in tin. A busy, intricate design in relief on the outside shows drinkies at a tavern table, urchins in a woods and flora of various kinds. Stands about eight inches.

A discriminating bride might enjoy a pair of Staffordshire cists, snug in their blue ribbons. Many Staffordshire figures here, including a little English house.

From the Coronation of George the Fourth, a pair of handsome prints framed in gold. One is a portrait of a "Gentleman of His Majesty's Privy Chamber," another shows "A Clerk of His Majesty." The prints, with frame, stand about 30 inches high.

Sports in Princeton

In the Spotlight: A year ago, the Class of 1952 voted lanky, easy-going John Emery of Upper Merionair its best all-around athlete. Big John had played first base on the varsity ball team, had been the starting offensive left end on the unbeaten football team and had been a tremendous clutch player in basketball. He did not hold down a starting berth on the championship quintet of 1951-52, but was invariably the first substitute Cappy Cappon sent into the game and invariably came through with several indispensable points.

Now, another Emery is making his presence felt on the Princeton athletic scene. Only a sophomore, Dick has been tabbed by Charlie Caldwell as his regular quarter-back next fall. He's a triple threat, adding passing and kicking ability to his running, thus greatly increasing the Princeton offensive potential.

This week, Dick, a 20-year-old senior, was named to the NCAA Day 2 baseball team. Of the ten players chosen from all colleges in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware, one was a junior. The eight others were seniors. On top of that, Dick was the only Ivy League player named.

His 75-inning, earned run average is 1.68, but over a stretch of the last 41 innings he has worked, it is .66. This includes successive victories over Yale, Penn, Cornell and Villanova, successive shutouts over the first two, and a scoreless string of 23 innings. Won-lost he's 6-2, could be as high as 9-2 by season's end.

This Friday afternoon at 4:15 at Yale Field, New Haven, Dick will attempt to pitch Princeton into a first-place tie with Penn. Harvard is the obstacle, and while the Crimson is no better than fifth in the circuit, a relaxed team can often make serious trouble for an opponent which feels the pressure.

Yale in a non-league encounter (either Joe Castle or Al Bryant will go) is the Saturday schedule. If the Tigers' top Harvard, they'll entertain Penn in a play-off game and leave six for Tuesday afternoon at 4:15. He was the winning pitcher against Harvard, Emery will work this one too.

Lafayette is currently scheduled to come here Wednesday, although if the Leopards win the District 2 NCAA playoff this week, there is a chance that affair will be cancelled by mutual consent. Meanwhile, Yale will seek a shot at the title by playing Harvard at Cambridge on Wednesday. If the Tigers and the Elis are still unbeaten by the commencement contest on Saturday, June 13, it will be the first Yale-Princeton playoff in Eastern League history.

Emery could get the starting assignment in that one, too. He may have quite a week ahead of him.

PHS Wins. For the seventh year in a row, Princeton High's track team completely dominated the Central Jersey Group III championships. The scoring at Asbury Park last weekend gave the Little Tigers 79 1/2 to 32 for North River, Bound Brook and Somerville trailing.

Coach Irvon Weiss watched his charges take eight of the 13 first places, two of them going to Carl Brown in the high hurdles and the high jump. Other Princeton High winners: Bob Taylor, 100; Al Terry, 220; Bryce Rittenhouse, 440; Doug Wengel, 880; Jim Varner, low hurdles, and Larry Fitzgerald, javelin.

The team concludes its season this week in the final dual meet against Trenton Catholic being followed by defense of the state Group III title at Rutgers. Balance and ability to stay on top appears to be present.

Teague on Top. Pitcher's hat-tles have been few and far between in the Eagles' Softball Leagues this Spring. In the four seasons that action has been staged under their sponsorship, it is doubtful that two of the recent scores have been dupligated: Teague's Stars 41, E-Stars 14; and Nassau Social Club 25, World Federalists 0.

Other contests that have run the fielders' ragged: Sportsmen 21, Cousins 8, Eagles 19, Ex-Stars 2; Kings Inn over Swinerton's Gulf Station by the same margin, and Sportsmen 17, Eagles 12. Biggest inning, Teague's fifth against the Ex-Stars, when they shoved an even dozen runs across the plate.

Teague's nine is on top in the American League with a 5-1 mark, followed by the Sportsmen in second spot. The standings as of Monday.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

| | W. | L. | Pct. |

| Eagles | 3 | 3 | .500 |
| Ex-Stars | 0 | 6 | .000 |

Big Battle Ahead. The clash on Tuesday at 6:15 on the High School field between Nassau Social Club and Artistic Chippers will be the "crucial contest" to date in the National League. Each team is unbeaten at 3-0; each has a top pitcher in Huck McCredy and Tom Collins.

The Eagles had to go 11 innings before nicking up a triumph over Gallup and Robinson last week.
Their May 25 set-to ended in a 6-6 tie when darkness settled down; the replay Sunday afternoon finally came their way by a 10-9 count.

Joe Rauch hurled both games for the Eagles, weathering a six-run blast by G & R in the playoff when his mates weighed in with some roust hitting. Al Leitzel had three for five and Garry Oldis two for two. Sherry Rowland's four for four paced the losers.

The standings as of Tuesday:

NATIONAL LEAGUE

| | W. | L. | Pct. |
|-------------------|----|----|-------|
| Artistic | 3 | 0 | 1.000 | | Nassau Social | 3 | 0 | 1.000 |

Tamasi Battery Wins. The sister battery of Carol and Marlan Tamasi helped give Peresett Applin-ance its first victory of the season in the Girls' League. Peresett turned back Princeton Recreation Center, 5-3, as Carol set the losers down with three scattered hits.

Kings Inn continues to dominate the league, its latest triumph being the 19-2 drubbing of the Gulf Station. Ginny Meishon set the Gulf entry down with three hits while her team was collecting 25.

Kings Inn is currently 3-0 in the standings. The others are bunched at identical marks of 1-2 each.

Tennis Tournaments to Start.
Entries are now being received for the community tennis tournaments.
Starting dates: junior boys' and girls' singles, June 15; men's singles, June 29; women's singles, July 8; men's doubles, July 20; mixed doubles, August 3. Matches are played on the University courts.

Entries may be made through the YMCA, tournament director Jess Willard or John R. Arscott at Princeton High school by those who plan to play in the junior tournaments. Other tournament entries should be made through the "Y". Willard or the tennis committee: Michael Kopliker, Dr. Paul R.
Chesbro and Caryl Bigelow, Jr.

242-day German siege by Australian forces at Tobruk (North Africa) in World War II. Battle scenes, many of them official film clips, are good, as are sound performances by Richard Burton and Robert Newton. James Mason appears as Rommel again.

THE GARDEN

I Love Melvin (Thurs.-Sat.) wanders along happily as a Technicolor romantic comedy with lively dances. Donald O'Connor can be very funny as a photographer's assistant posing as the real thing in order to capture the affections of Debbie Reynolds. Walt Disney's Technicolor short "Water Birds" from his remarkable animal series is an added attraction.

Justice Is Done (Mon.-Wed.) is superb in many ways and a problem in others. The French film (English subtitles) won the grand prize at the Venice Film Festival, primarily for its powerful characterizations and effects of realism.
And yet excellent as they are, the fascinating character studies tend to overshadow the central movement.

The film deals with the jurors at the trial of a woman indicted for a mercy killing of her sick lover.
Each juror interprets the facts in the light of his own difficulties.
Along with this remarkable work of film art, there is a short entitled "A Visit to Picasso" in which the famed French artist demonstrates his new art form designed for films.

Small Town Girl (Thurs.-Sat.), despite the title, is a lavish Technicolor musical production filled with the customary pleasant hash about the happy problems of happy people. Comedy, songs, dances, etc., from the talents of Jane Powell, Farley Granger, Ann Miller, S. Z.
Sakall, etc.

Midgets Busy. Two victories for the Giants in the National League threw that race into a first-place tie as the YMCA's midget baseball teams neared the stretch run last week. Rain curtailed action to some degree and forced a postponement of Saturday's all-star game, for which no new date has been set.

Jack Shepard piloted the Giants into a deadlock with the Pirates at 6-3 each. In the American League, the Yankees were held idle but remained a half-game in front of the Tigers. The Athletics won two in this circuit to pass the Red Sox, who dropped into the cellar.

Team standings, with the sponsors:

Cricket Here. Princetonians may well be interested in watching Saturday's cricket match, scheduled for 2 o'clock on Poe Field (just east of Baker Rink). The Princeton Graduate Cricket Club and Staten Island will be the participants.

Princeton staged an upset at Pennsylvania State College last weekend, winning by six wickets despite the presence on the home team of Gordon Clayton of Derbyshire, an English county cricketer.
He made 51 of his side's total of 79, hitting four sixes and four fours before being caught at deep cover point by Mackintosh off the bowling of Captain Peter Fensham.

For Princeton, J. R. Pole hit 22 out of 26 in 25 minutes, while Fensham's onslaught produced four sixes in an innings of 46 not out.
Irwin Vas bowled steadily, yielding only 15 runs in 10 overs, and also taking a neat slip catch off the bowling of Pole.

(Editor's note: instruction in reporting of cricket matches given on request—provided we don't lose sight of our Graduate College correspondent.)
